24TH AUGUST 2021 by SPEAR'S

Welcome to the Spear's ranking of the best collectibles experts for high-net-worth individuals in the UK. The list features our Top Recommended advisers

Collecting – from coins to comic books – can be one of life's great pleasures. For high-net-worth collectors, finding and acquiring the very best and rarest items is often an important component of their collecting journey.

Here, Spear's highlights the leading collectibles experts who can make that process easier, by stocking and sourcing the best examples of collectibles including coins, stamps, rare books, vintage watches and jewellery. These experts are world leaders in their fields and provide the service expected of high-net-worth advisers, making the process of acquiring and trading collectibles as smooth a process as possible.

Spear's publishes annual rankings of the top private client advisers and service providers to HNWs. These are drawn up on the basis of peer nominations, client feedback, telephone and face-to-face interviews, data supplied by firms, as well as information gathered by the Spear's editorial and research teams.

The collectibles experts featured are included in the table below, along with their Spear's ranking and focus.
